

It's hard to believe that the Cecil County Fair is only four months away! It's even harder to believe that I will soon be giving up my title. There is still so much left to do! This includes, however, helping to find the NEXT Miss Cecil County Farm Bureau. The requirements to run are simple: you must be a girl ages 16-19, and your parents must be Farm Bureau members. The decision to run can be scary. I remember wanting to drop out only days before I competed. The thought of speaking on a stage in front of so many people can be so intimidating, so I studied hard all of my Cecil County farm facts. When the big day finally came, I knew I just had to get up there and give it my all. Once I got on the stage, I felt comfortable going through the interview and answering the fish bowl question. I was so excited to get my sash and be announced the 2008 Miss Cecil County Farm Bureau. It was an experience that changed my life, and I hope you consider taking on the challenge!

To contact me about running, call 410-275-1283 and ask for Caroline!

Sincerely, Caroline Isaacson
