

2011 DOE HARVEST CHALLENGE

Enjoy hunting, but find you've filled your freezer long before the end of the season?

Would you like to help reduce the agricultural crop damage endured by your community's farmers?

Do you want to help the less fortunate in these difficult economic times?

IF YOU SAID YES TO ANY ONE OF THE ABOVE, YOU'LL WANT TO PARTICIPATE IN THE 2011 Doe Harvest Challenge!

By simply donating your legally harvested doe to a participating Farmers and Hunters, Feeding the Hungry processor in Southern Maryland or the Mid-Shore and filling out a brief entry card, not only will you help provide quality protein to local food banks and help reduce agricultural crop losses, but you'll be eligible for prize packages valued at around $500 and a grand prize of over $1,000 in value!!

Rules:

1. Each doe donated entitles you to 1 entry card.
2. Only does harvested within legal seasons and bag limits qualify (No DMPs).
3. There will be five, three-week contest cycles in each region with winners drawn at the conclusion of each cycle. Entries collected throughout all five contest cycles will be entered into a drawing in each region for a grand prize valued at over $1,000!
4. Entries accepted beginning September 15th through December 30th.

So. Maryland participating counties: Anne Arundel, Charles, Calvert, St. Mary's and Prince George's

Mid-Shore participating counties: Caroline, Talbot, Dorchester, Kent and Queen Anne's
